Content Focus

Clinical Liver Disease (CLD) is a free access multimedia journal with an aim of providing education for clinicians diagnosing and managing patients with liver disease. CLD articles are accompanied by visual abstracts, podcasts, author videos, and/or slide sets that help emphasize the key teaching points for a clinical audience. Readers can earn Continuing Medical Education (CME) credits for reading, watching, and listening to the content. The brief videos help promote our authors and enhance their ability to share their knowledge.
