Education; General Medicine

Audience

Membership organization for students, residents, faculty, and fellows in primary care.

Content Focus

Evidence-Based Practice (EBP) is a journal focused on providing answers to some of the most important and common questions derived from patient care experiences and the newest practice changing medical literature. Each issue includes collaborative content from practicing physicians, PharmDs, and behavioral health clinicians based on the best and/or most current evidence. Each meaningful, bite-sized article found in EBP aims at helping primary care clinicians and medical educators across the world become more effective in understanding, and applying evidence based medicine.
